TODAY'S PROGRAM...

Chalkwalk Art

Carla Summers introduced our speaker, Denise Cugliario, who is the coordinator of Festivals and Events in Chelsea. She invited us all to come to Chelsea for Sounds and Sites any Thursday from 6:30 -8:30, where there are eleven stages and eleven weeks of music and art. Denise's main topic today was Chalkwalk Art, which she displayed with amazing pictures. She described chalk art beginning in Italy in the 16th century, when artists were commissioned by the Church to create images of the Madonna and of Bible stories for illiterate citizens to learn about the faith.

Carla Summers

Today, the media is similar, chalk on pavement, but the content is wide ranging from portraits to comic characters and even three or four-dimensional works of art. In this case, elongated pictures are drawn on the pavement in such a way that when the observer stands in the right spot, the flat drawing comes to three-dimensional life. Denise explained how artists prepare templates that can be transferred to the sidewalk and quickly filled in with chalk. The huge works are amazing; but look quickly, for they are temporary and can be washed away by traffic or rain.

Denise Cugliario

Chelsea will hold the 2018 Chalk Art Festival July 26-28. A contest for amateurs will take place Saturday on Middle Street, east and west of M-52. Professional chalk art will be created on Friday and on display in the Clock Tower parking lot throughout the festival. Admission and most activities are free. Seeing is believing!

FINES...

Garry Evans proposed a fine on anyone who has participated in a public safety role, or has had an encounter with a law enforcement officer, including traffic tickets. The editor was not sure how Garry cooked up this fine, but it worked, and we all paid one way or the other.

HAPPY DOLLARS...

☺ Chris Winkler had two Happy Dollars in memory of two Kiwanians: first, it is the 100th Anniversary of the RAF, which reminded him of deceased Kiwanian Ron Henderson, who flew with the RAF in WWII. Learning that Ron had not flown since the War, Chris invited Ron to fly with him and they had many happy hours together in the sky. Second, Chris was happy to report that Friday the 13th fell on a Friday this month and shared this in memory of Fred King.

☺ Fred Sanchez reported a good class reunion with former Counselor Al Gallup as honored guest. Fred got to know Al pretty well back in the day sitting in Mr. Gallup's office.

☺ Ann Mattson had a happy gift for Claire Dahl: a Rosie the Riveter bobble-head that came in on the dock. This inspired Claire to talk about marching with the Rosie's in the Fourth of July parade in Washington DC and laying a wreath at the Rosie's memorial.

☺ Cliff Sheldon was grateful for the acts of kindness and prayers of Kiwanians and happy to be back today.

☺ Larry Dittmar was happy for a week at Interlochen, and for his son's achievement of receiving five nominations for Emmys for his sound tracks.

☺ Jean Robinson had a Happy Dollar in memory of Jane Barney and in honor of all Jane Barney did in her lifetime for the good of the community.

☺ Jane Talcott was pleased though warm from standing in the parking lot where it was 102 degrees last Saturday. She was waiting for a busload of campers returning home. The driver told her three of "her boys" were a handful going to camp, but were "perfect gentlemen" on the way home! Editor's note: see what a campership and week at camp can do!

☺ Max Ziegler was happy to attend his grandson's wedding in Minneapolis and then to hear Ellen Webb paged at the airport for the same flight, and then to sit next to a woman from Ann Arbor whom he recruited to volunteer for Kiwanis!

☺ Bryce Babcock thanked President William for a Scripture card quoting Isaiah, and appreciated Mary Stewart showing up to help with the Sale in spite of the pain of shingles.

Known worldwide as the place for the "funkiest" gift.
