TODAY'S PROGRAM...

ON BEING AN ENTREPRENEUR

Demond Johnson

Demond Johnson introduced our speaker, Dr. Ann Marie Sastry, whom Demond described as his friend, mentor and hero. Not all heroes wear capes, Demond said, but all—including Ann Marie—have overcome obstacles that would make others crumble.

Ann Marie is an entrepreneur, researcher and educator in battery science and technology. Prior to founding and leading her startup company, Sakti3, which makes solid-state batteries with double the energy density of current technology, she was the Arthur F. Thurnau Professor of Engineering at the University of Michigan. Tenured and promoted early, she founded and led two research centers in batteries and bio-science, and a global graduate program. She has received several of the highest technical honors in her field, including the National Science Foundation's Presidential Early Career Award for Scientists and Engineers. Sakti3 has been recognized by MIT as one of the 50 smartest companies, and Ann Marie personally showed off her technology to President Obama in the White House.

Taking us behind the scenes of what happens early on at a startup, Ann Marie described an entrepreneur as one who sees beyond what currently exists to envision what could be. An entrepreneur launching a startup is an upstart, a contrarian who sees things differently. Why create a startup? Ann Marie answered her own question by telling us that such a person must have what is known in the industry as a BHAG, a "big hairy audacious goal."

Ann Marie purposely kept Sakti small and lean with cheaper equipment. As an example, Sakti3 chose scalable methods, using equipment designed to manufacture potato chip bags, rather than the exotic and expensive equipment selected by competitors. It's the second mouse that gets the cheese, Ann Marie said.

Sakti3 was acquired by Dyson for $90 million in October 2015, and Ann Marie described several concrete steps taken to be certain Sakti3 employees were among the big winners in the transaction. Ann Marie has moved on, founding an artificial intelligence startup, Amesite. Rather than stay with the comfort and security of her new position at Dyson following the acquisition, Ann Marie figures that "the best use of me is to try to do things that are nuts."

NEXT WEEK'S PROGRAM...

February 5—Flight of the Butterflies. Speaker: Manja Holland. Introduction by: Dale Leslie.

MEETINGS...

John Goff announced a Strategic & Long-Range Planning Committee meeting next Monday, February 5, at 10:30 AM.

The K-Family Leadership Committee will meet next Monday, February 5, at 1:15 PM.

An area to post notices of committee meetings has been established in our KCW luncheon room just outside the kitchen. Meeting notices will also continue to be announced at club luncheons and in the newsletter.

GUESTS AT OUR CLUB...

Alan Burg introduced Francine Bomar, special guest of Susan Smith and Bob Gray. We were delighted to dine with Esther Hampton, wife of William Hampton; Arno Buhner, husband of Pat Buhner; Elissa Benedek, wife of Dick Benedek; and Mark Lavin, husband of Eloise Lavin. Mark Hassett was the guest of Deb Jones. And Harry Hawkins, and Harry's caregiver, Mamadou, were guests of Bud Roberts. No Circle K members were seen at this week's luncheon.

HOSPITALITY...

Max Ziegler provided an update regarding injury to both knees suffered by John Goff's wife, Sherri, in a recent skiing accident. It appears Sherri has torn her ACL. Surgery will be performed on the first knee on February 6; then an evaluation will be made regarding treatment for the other knee. Lynne Lande's husband, Lars, is hospitalized with complications related to congestive heart failure; Lars is expected to be the hospital for about a week.

ANNOUNCEMENTS...

- Dave Drake confirmed plans for an interclub at Chelsea on Monday evening, January 29, with a 6:13 PM start (that's what "the man told me," Dave shrugged). Dave had discussed the interclub with George Gilligan, who was excited about his recent tennis match victory. We were all impressed with George's athletic prowess until Dave informed us that George's opponent is 91 years old.
Super Interclubs are scheduled for March 15 at Whitmore Lake, and April 16 at Chelsea.
- Mike Dabbs provided an update following the Grant Coordination Committee's meeting that was held before today's luncheon, following this month's board approval of an additional $150,000 allocation for nonprofit groups in the community. By next Monday's meeting, a press release will be available, to announce that new community grant funding from Kiwanis and to describe the application process. Notification of the grant funding availability will be sent to all nonprofit groups made known to us, whether or not such groups have previously received grant funding from Kiwanis. Grant applications are then to be submitted to the Grant Coordination Committee by mid-March, and the committee will complete its recommendations of grant recipients and amounts, for submission to the board at its June meeting. Any of us who want to add a nonprofit to the list of community groups on the notification list should provide contact information for the nonprofit to Mike. The Grant Coordination Committee is excited that Kiwanis is returning to normal grant processing activities and that the wheels are once again rolling to provide significant grant support throughout the community.
- Harry Cross addressed our luncheon group to ask if it would be worthwhile for him to produce a wallet-size membership phone list, as Harry has done in past years. After discussion, the consensus was that such a phone list would be useful to a number of our members, so Harry plans to proceed. Dan Dever said it would be useful if the directory was produced as a Word document while Susan Smith suggested a PDF. Harry then told us his technology is not very advanced, being WordStar running under DOS. This generated a little laughter, but the technology is more than adequate to produce a useful phone listing.

Announcements continue on page five...

FINES...

Garry Evans noticed that many members already had their quarters out on the table, anticipating a fine sometime during the luncheon. Garry shrewdly proposed a fine on all Kiwanians who had failed to place a quarter on the table, reasoning that these members should be penalized for their miserly ways. After some squawking, Garry's motion passed.

Later Dan Dever noticed the confusion on Fred Sanchez' face as he attempted to collect fines following Garry's motion. Neither Fred nor anyone else could tell which Kiwanians already had their quarters on the table before Garry's motion and which Kiwanians had placed their quarters on the table to pay the fine. So Dan proposed a fine on everyone, permitting Fred simply to pick up all the quarters. Motion passed .

HAPPY DOLLARS...

- ☺ Bob Gray was chagrined that the meteoric rocks he had shown us the previous week were in fact not of meteoric origin. However, Bob was happy that a genuine meteoric rock was found nearby, at Strawberry Lake.
- ☺ Dick Smit was busting with pride over the outstanding skating performance of his granddaughter, Jessica, at a Wichita, Kansas competition that earned her a silver medal.
- ☺ Sally Lamkin contributed a happy dollar in thanks for Greg Springstead's good work in helping Sally and Burt load a bookcase into the Lamkin vehicle's trunk at the KCW dock. Greg padded the bookcase with a blanket, secured it with string and pleasantly wished Sally and Burt "good luck" as they departed. Sally was pleased that Greg went the extra mile to help out.
- ☺ John Dahl contributed to honor and recognize his wife, Claire, who was one of the Rosie the Riveter volunteers awarded a volunteer of the year plaque last Saturday at the Yankee Air Museum.

PROSPECTIVE MEMBER...

Harry Hawkins has applied for membership. He is sponsored by William Hampton and Bud Roberts. Harry is the General Manager of West Hawk Industries. First publication.

KIWANIS CENTER TRANSITION NEWS...

We had another good weekend of sales—about $5,400 on Friday and $8,000 on Saturday. Sales of clothes and shoes were a little less than last weekend but nevertheless helped the overall sales. If all goes well, the Antiques and Collectable Section will be open for the next weekend. This area will sell cameras, microscopes, telescopes, and the higher price collectables. We will be setting up an additional cash register in the new area, just north of the fire lane in the main sales room.

At least two new volunteers will be starting this week: Karen Hadwin will be in to help sort on Wednesday. Bill Orlowski will start on Tuesday as a volunteer assisting Tanya Salamin with some work in the area we are preparing for a tenant. We are receiving new requests for volunteering every week and need to expand our volunteer base for a more successful operation. Thanks to all that are contributing to help our goal to raise funds to support children. ~Bob Gray

KIWANIANS AT THE AUTO SHOW...

Kiwanians Fred Sanchez, Dale Leslie, and Cliff Sheldon were "On The Road Again" at the Detroit Automotive Show. A great event for car buffs and those who marvel at dynamic displays. Good show, Detroit! (January 23, 2018) Dale

- Once the phone listing matter was resolved, Harry turned to his main topic, which was to announce changes to the scholarship program that have been determined by the Scholarship Subcommittee (a subcommittee of the Children & Youth Services Committee). The primary changes are to raise the amount of each scholarship from $1,000 to $1,500 and to limit scholarship awards only to students planning to attend an institution of higher learning located in Michigan. The campaign to raise scholarship funding from club members and others will be shortened to occur in the month of February only, as Harry or others on the scholarship subcommittee must know of all planned scholarship funding by February 28. The scholarship award presentations will then be made at the Kiwanis luncheon on April 30. Establishing "repeating scholarships," with a student recipient to receive annual scholarship awards for four or five years while enrolled in college, is under discussion. Harry elaborated that the Ray and Eleanor Cross Foundation will continue to match scholarship contributions on a dollar for dollar basis. That is, a member may fund a $1,500 named scholarship with a gift of $750, which will be matched by the Ray and Eleanor Cross Foundation. Each of us may partner with others, in order to reduce the amount of individual contributions needed to fund a named scholarship. This year, the scholarship program will be opened up to smaller contributions, such as $25 or whatever amount desired by the contributor, with the smaller contributions added together, to be matched and to create a generic, unnamed scholarship.
- Several questions and comments followed Harry's remarks. Dale Leslie expressed the concern that some educational pursuits may not be available within the State of Michigan, and Bob Carr observed that many students don't know what college they will be attending until summer or might change their minds before college enrollment. Mike Dabbs, as chair of the Children & Youth Services Committee, responded that the decisions are not completely final but that at least this year the program will be restricted to students planning to enroll within Michigan. Mike also observed that our new scholarship restrictions are less limiting than those imposed by Rotary for its scholarship program. Doug Ziesemer asked about the location of the scholarship awards luncheon, since the luncheon room at KCW might not be large enough. The response was that the Programs Committee has reserved two different Monday luncheon dates for scholarship awards, in case we need to split the awards into two programs. Also, Bob Gray said we could set up our KCW meeting room auditorium style, serving food outside the meeting room, to increase seating capacity.
- Larry Dittmar announced that this Friday, February 2 at 8:00 PM, there will be symphony band concert at Hill Auditorium, which is free and open to the public. On Friday, February 16 at noon, a carillon concert will be presented at Burton Tower ringing in the Lunar New Year, also free and open to the public. The free carillon concert will be repeated on the same date at 1:30 PM at the Lurie Tower on the UM North Campus.
