TODAY'S PROGRAM...

INCOME INEQUALITY

Deb Jones introduced James Gruber, PhD, retired professor of sociology at U of M Dearborn. Dr. Gruber taught classes in social psychology, gender roles, women and gender studies, and a project on bullying. He spoke with us about a year ago on Marriage in the 21st Century. Today's topic was "The Great Economic Divide". Dr. Gruber pointed out that income inequality has increased over the last four decades: the bottom 50% have lost ground, while the top 40% are doing better. 10% are not doing well at all. The top 20% have 100 times more wealth, which includes assets beyond income. Many Americans have no reserve funds at all.

How did we get here?

⇒ Erosion of decent paying jobs one can have without a college education. This has led to many people working two or three jobs to get by and two income earners in a family to accumulate the medium income of $57,000.

⇒ Decreased intergenerational mobility: ie children doing better than their parents. Only 16% of children are able to escape the poverty of their parents.

⇒ Residential Segregation: "The power of the zip code" predicts how well a child will do in adulthood. "White flight" from the cities to the nearby suburbs and beyond has decreased diversity both racially and economically. Communities that are poor are staying poor. Many small towns and rural counties also experience loss of the middle class as small factories and stores close, the younger people leave for college and jobs and never come back. Without a good tax base, schools suffer and kids do poorly.

⇒ Changing nature of work: The security of steady jobs with benefits has eroded to part time or contractual work without benefits, and the development of the "gig economy" where people piece together a living. In 1960, the largest private employers were the auto companies, GE, and US Steel; in 2015, that had changed to Walmart, Kelly Services, McDonald's and other fast food companies. Also automation and technology replace workers faster the new jobs can be created and workers trained to do them.

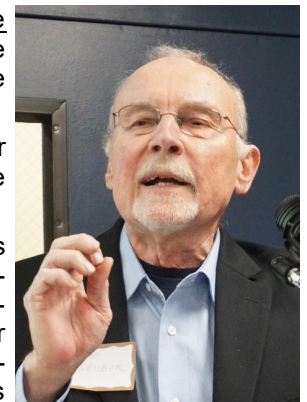

What is the solution?

⇒ Providing stronger state funding for schools across all districts so that children have an opportunity for a good education and training no matter the zip code or district in which they live.

⇒ Providing free or nearly free college education. In 1979 Michigan covered 80% of in-state college tuition; today the state covers only 15%, leading to increased student debt.

⇒ Providing a Universal Basic Income for the bottom third of the population as a means of stabilizing income and creating wealth. For example, in a rural county with 2,000 residents below poverty, a $5,000 stipend for each resident would impact the local economy with $10,000,000 and all the activity that generates. The Canadian provinces of Quebec and Ontario, and Finland have implanted this initiative.

(Editor's note: a clear and thoughtful presentation like this makes me want to go back to college myself!).

Welcome everyone! We hope you will join us again soon.

HOSPITALITY...

Fred Sanchez passed around a sympathy card for Joan VanArtsdalen, wife of Bill, who was a past District Governor and dear friend of Al and Sue Dailey. We had a moment of silent reflection on the death of Letitia Byrd. We remember also Bob Fletcher, who died recently. He was an Honorary Member in 2012. Mary Ann Crawford, wife of deceased member Merle Crawford, is in St. Joe's Hospital, room 526, recovering from a broken hip. Clar Dukes continues to deal with heart palpitations.

Dale Leslie reports the passing of Karen Ensminger on February 27 in Ft. Myers, Florida. Karen was an Honorary Member of our club and Founder of The Scrap Box.

ANNOUNCEMENTS...

- Pres. Elect William Hampton announced services for Letitia Byrd will be held at the First United Methodist Church, 120 S. State St., on Saturday, February 24 at 1:30pm.
- Jim Meretta announced that Cub Scout Pack 131, sponsored by our club, will hold their annual Pinewood Derby this Saturday in the lunch room. There will be lots of action!
- Coffee and donuts for Sale workers will be in the kitchen, as usual.
- Larry Dittmar shared information about several free musical events that were earlier this week. He also mentioned that the fine production of Porgy and Bess last Saturday was dedicated to Letitia Byrd. Joe Medrano announced that the Dexter Community Band is performing this coming Sunday afternoon at 3:00.
- March 5 is the deadline for submitting your contribution or pledge to match the Ray and Eleanor Cross Foundation for a Scholarship for selected graduating seniors from the Ann Arbor Public Schools. The form for submitting a contribution or a pledge is attached (Page 5). Pledges can be from individuals or groups of individuals for the $750 pledge to be matched. If you are planning to sponsor a scholarship, please complete the form and return it to Eloise Lavin.

The scholarships to be awarded this year will be $1,500 per student compared to $1,000 per student in previous years. The awards will be presented at the regular club meeting on April 30, 2018 at the Kiwanis Center.

We look forward to receiving your Pledge forms. Please contact Eloise Lavin if you have questions at eloise.lavin@a2kiwanis.org.

Prospective Member...

A new member application has been received from Mark Lavin, sponsored by Eloise Lavin and co-signed by William V. Hampton as the additional Club Member. First publication.

FINES...

Luke Panning proposed a fine on investment professionals who are working today and making more money, instead of taking Presidents' Day off like he is. Peter Schork, wearing a business suit, tried to exempt himself by claiming not to be a "professional anything". Then, anyone whose picture did not show up in the photographs of the group at dinner had to pay.

HAPPY DOLLARS...

- ☺ Peter Schork paid a dollar to remind us all that only two weeks are left to pledge a scholarship in partnership with the Cross Foundation. A $750 pledge can be made as an individual or group. Peter was also happy for Doug Ziesemer's good work in finding us another good tenant. We are fully occupied!
- ☺ Max Ziegler was happy and thankful for Mary Stewart's fine work in planning the outing to The Millionaire Quartet, and encouraged others to see the show.
- ☺ Dave Drake was delighted about the U of M basketball victory over OSU, (aka in that state as THE Ohio State University). Dave also reported that while he was in Florida, he saw George Gilligan, who told him he beat his 91 year old tennis partner!
- ☺ Jill Davidson happily announced that Circle K has reached a milestone of 200 members (!), and that Melissa and Skylar have been elected as officers. And that a group of Circle K members are leaving Sunday on an Alternative Spring Break to work on trails at James River State Park in Virginia. (Go Circle K! You are wonderful!)
- ☺ Bob Carr had a sad/happy dollar for two weeks spent in West Virginia, attending Jeanette's sister's funeral and being with family. Last week he was in Galveston TX, celebrating a family wedding. Bob's only regret about Black History Month is that black history is not better integrated and recognized in general American history. He remembers growing up in Texas, where there were signs barring "colored" and schools were segregated.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES AND NEWS...

- Mary Stewart reported on the fine outing Sunday to see The Millionaire Quartet. Eighteen Kiwanians and guests attended the performance and enjoyed dinner together afterwards. Thank you Mary for organizing another nice social event.
- Nicolette Williams, Emily Allshouse, and Julanne Williams attended a Kiwanis Leadership function on Saturday. The conference was called "Igniting the Leader in You!" and was presented by Michigan District of Kiwanis. It was held at the MSU Management Education Center in Troy.
- Dexter Forum has a new website, www.dexterforum.com.
